DO YOU HAVE HEADSHIP IN YOUR SIGHTS?

Linwood Teaching School Alliance offers Vice Principals, Assistant & Deputy Headteachers an opportunity to review the personal competencies and professional standards required to step up to Headship. In partnership with Ambitions Teaching School Alliance, participants will be supported through a bespoke development programme which includes a two day residential, three two-day internships and opportunities for 1:1 mentoring and coaching.

In addition there will be a summative event which will include bespoke training sessions and opportunities to plan continuing support (which can include guidance on applying for and having the right impact at your first Headship interview)

Participants on the programme will access the latest thinking around leadership and teaching, learning from experienced and successful headteachers, National Leaders in Education (NLEs), plus develop the skills and competencies required to obtain their first headship and to lead it well so that everyone succeeds.
