The Dyslexia Friendly Classroom

This engaging half day presentation applies the current science around Dyslexia, including a balanced response to the ideas of Professor Joe Elliott, to the creation of inclusive accommodations that are proven to accelerate the learning of the 20% of learners in every classroom who are on the Dyslexia Spectrum.

Participants will be supported to identify typical Dyslexic behaviours and appropriate inclusive accommodations which are easily implemented by non-Dyslexia specialist class and subject teachers. These adaptations will benefit a majority of learners in the class. Participants will go back to school to share the strategies, the presentation will cover solutions for spelling jargon words, minimizing decoding issues to capitalize on comprehension, learning for tests, getting ideas down on paper and some advice for working with parents.
