

Dyslexia

Led by Nicola Al-Jassar

Course Aims & Objectives:

- To have an understanding of what is meant by the term 'Dyslexia'
- To have acquired ideas for practical teaching strategies and multisensory approaches to support children in the classroom
- To understand the link between Dyslexia and mental health
- To be able to confidently support students with Specific learning difficulties

Date; Thursday 30th June 2022

Time: 9am-12pm

Virtual delivery via Zoom

Cost : £75 pp—boost funding for BCP Schools

Suitable for Teaching Assistants and other staff supporting students with Dyslexic difficulties

Book via ; www.bcpworkforcedevelopment.co.uk

Nicola Al-Jassar is the assessor and practitioner at Aim High Dyslexia. She is a passionate and friendly individual who is dedicated in providing outstanding support and individualised guidance in the field of Special Educational Needs.

Nicola completed her National Award for SEN Coordination in 2013, which sparked her interest in Special Educational Needs and secured her firm belief that every child deserves the right to succeed and achieve their potential. Since qualifying as SENDCo Nicola went on to gain further qualifications. She gained her Access Arrangement qualification in 2014 allowing her to become a member of the British Psychological Society.

Nicola then went on to gain her Level 5 Specialist Dyslexia Teacher Award for students with Specific Learning Difficulties, and then went on to further her knowledge and completed her Level 7 Assessors Certificate (APC) for Specific Learning Difficulties.