

Speech & Sound Production 2 - Verbal Dyspraxia

Led by Emma Draper,
Highly Specialist Paediatric Speech and Language Therapist

This session builds on the “Speech and Sound Production” training by developing your knowledge and skills to work with a child with diagnosed developmental verbal dyspraxia. Learning different techniques and theory about this speech sound disorder will help you to understand and carry out speech therapy as directed by speech and language therapists.

The theory of how sounds are made, normal speech sound development in children and basic therapy techniques are covered in “Speech and Sound production” so it is strongly recommended that you have attended this course before attending Verbal Dyspraxia training.
