

Primary English Network

Led by:

Lisa Baldwin, PGCE Primary Programme Leader and Senior Lecturer in Education

Understanding writing: Supporting children's motivation and success

In this session we will review what constitutes successful writing. We will examine the demands of writing and ways in which children's development can be supported. There will be a focus on teaching approaches that support children's engagement and success, including opportunities for talk, use of texts, vocabulary work and experimentation to encourage writerly habits and ownership over composition. There will also be opportunities for you to share what works well in your school.

Date: Tuesday 24th May 2022

Time: 1:30pm – 3pm

Delivered Virtually via Zoom

Cost ; £25 pp

Lisa Baldwin,
PGCE Primary Programme Leader and Senior Lecturer in Education (Primary English)
University of Winchester

Lisa has taught in primary schools in Dorset and the London Borough of Brent, before becoming an Advisory Teacher for English in the London Borough of Hillingdon. Currently, Lisa is a Senior Lecturer in Primary English at the University of Winchester, teaching on both the undergraduate and postgraduate routes into teaching. Lisa has a degree in English literature and a Masters in Educational Research, having expertise in early reading and phonics, and is currently undertaking doctoral research into writing for pleasure pedagogies.

Most importantly, Lisa loves all things English and enjoys working with children, teachers and subject leaders to keep her understanding of classroom practice current. In 2019 Lisa published the book 'Leading English in the Primary School: The Subject Leader's Guide' which drew on her understanding of best leadership practice.

“The best thing about English teaching is the creative possibilities it affords” Lisa is passionate about the fact that good English teaching plays a significant role in the life-chances of all pupils.
